PROMISES TO AID BRITAIN IF ATTACKED

France Announces Mutual Assistance in Case of Unprovoked Aggression
WILL KEEP HANDS OFF SPANISH CIVIL WAR

PARIS, Dec. 4 (CP-Havas).—The Blum Government strove for assurance of continued support of its foreign policy in the Chamber of Deputies tonight, after it had announced mutual assistance to Great Britain and Belgium in case of unprovoked aggression.

At the same time the Government invited Germany to join in a new European security pact and offered to enter friendly relations with the Reich.

With the Communists threatening to split the popular front, if Premier Blum does not lift the arms embargo on Spain, Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos informed the Chamber, France must and will keep its hands off the Spanish civil war.

NEW ARMS PROPOSALS

The Foreign Minister also announced plans for the new French disarmament move before the League of Nations, which has been foreshadowed recently in speeches by Blum and other Government leaders. Limitation of military expenditures and reduction of air forces will be proposed to the world at Geneva by France, Delbos said.

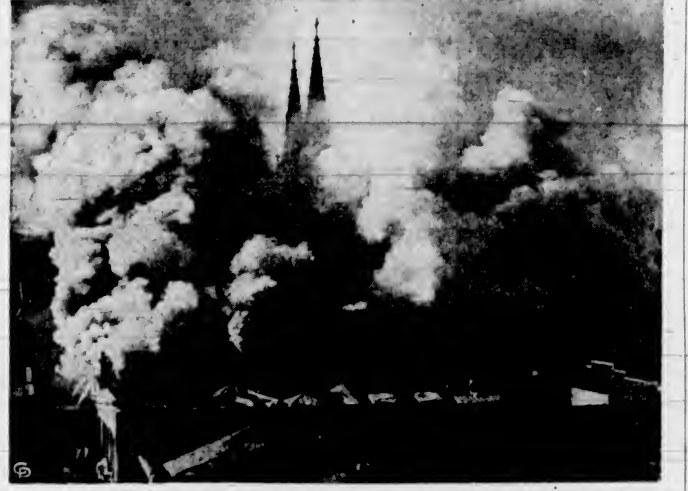

The formal statement France will aid Britain and Belgium in case of war constituted the Government's reply to the recent reciprocal declaration made by Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary.

KEY TO EUROPEAN PEACE

Recalling Great Britain had pledged to support France in the event of attack for which France was not responsible, he announced: "I declare similarly that all the forces of France, on land, sea and air, would spontaneously and immediately be used for the defence of Great Britain against unprovoked aggression."

A Fascist gunboat and four armed trawlers halted the Russian ship within sight of Gibraltar. It was reported the skipper of the Soviet craft, which was crossing the strait from the west, had planned to enter the port here to refuel.

Mayor David Leeming Gives Gonzales Community Association Concise Picture of Civic Finances—Alderman Andrew McGavin Claims Many Instances of Waste—Need for Economy

MAYOR David Leeming gave a concise picture of the state of civic finances and predicted that the debt-reducing plan would be successful at a meeting of Gonzales Community Association presided over last evening by Margaret Jenkins School by Percy C. Payne. Alderman Andrew McGavin, his opponent, related a number of instances in which he claimed city funds had been needlessly wasted, and stressed the need of economy in administering taxpayers' money. Seventy-five persons attended the gathering, and there was no heckling.

Japanese Ambassador Departs for Shanghai After Three Futile Months

NANKING, Dec. 5 (AP).—Japanese Ambassador Shigen Kawagoe departed for Shanghai today after three months of futile effort to readjust Sino-Japanese relations.

The Japanese Embassy emphasized that Kawagoe's departure did not mean the severance of diplomatic relations, saying that subordinate would continue to discuss specific incidents. The Embassy asserted, however, that "unless Chang Chun (Chinese Foreign Minister) evinces a sincere and frank desire to settle larger issues, Kawagoe will remain in Shanghai."

"Loyal defenders of Suiyuan Province defeated Mongol irregulars at Pailinmiao, reports from Kweihsai said," Chinese officials charge that the Mongols are Japanese-inspired.

B.C. Insurance Scheme to Start Spring of 1937

ACTUAL operation of the British Columbia health insurance scheme will wait until next Spring, Dr. Alton Peebles, chairman of the provincial commission in charge of the plan, said yesterday. At present the board is busy studying replies to 17,000 employers' and 100,000 employees' registration forms, which have to be indexed and analyzed before the full extent of the scheme can be determined. Negotiations with the medical profession were proceeding satisfactorily, Dr. Peebles said. Seasonal workers may be excluded at first.

B.C. SEEKING EXPORT ACT

Regulation of Internal and External Food Products Marketing Aim

On the eve of leaving for Ottawa to join a Dominion-Provincial conference on agriculture, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, made it plain this week that British Columbia is advancing a request of the Federal Government for market regulation in Canada and their extension.

For some time past it has been provincially realized that internal control of agricultural products was not giving the results anticipated from it, while export sales escaped regulation and were beyond the payment of levies and the operation of pooling.

EXPORT REGULATIONS

While no official word was vouchsafed on the point, there is excellent ground to believe that if regulation of export is not already on the agenda of the national meeting, the British Columbia delegation will bring the issue up. The newly-formed Canadian Chamber of Agriculture is advancing similar proposals, it is understood.

First, however, provincial officials are looking for some sign from Ottawa as to what will be the attitude of the Federal Government on market regulation as a whole.

B.C. TOOK APPEAL

Events have marched far and fast since the King Administration permitted the Federal marketing statute to go virtually into the discard, after an adverse court ruling from which Ottawa launched an appeal. British Columbia carried its own appeal from the adverse ruling to London, where it is now waiting termination before the Privy Council.

At both of the last two sessions, the British Columbia delegation pushed fresh amendments to the statute.

DOMINIONS GIVE SUPPORT TO BRITISH GOVERNMENT'S STAND IN OPPOSING KING'S WEDDING

Canadian Press—Authoritatively Informed Self-Governing Units of Commonwealth Are in Accord With Views Expressed by Prime Minister Baldwin on Morganatic Marriage

Parliament Told Consort Must Be Accorded Status of Queen

LONDON, Dec. 4 (AP).—The Baldwin Cabinet is quite determined not to facilitate the device of morganatic marriage for His Majesty the King, a device hitherto unknown in Britain, but common in Germany during the Fatherland's Royalist days. If the Cabinet opposed the King's morganatic marriage with Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson it will be still more strongly opposed to her becoming Queen.

The views of the Dominion Governments, The Canadian Press is authoritatively informed, are dead against the marriage, either morganatically or otherwise. Their opposition is not based on the fact she is a commoner and an American. On that ground there is no objection. It is based rather on the fact Mrs. Simpson has two divorced husbands still living.

It is felt that with Mrs. Simpson either queen or the King's morganatic consort the prestige of the Crown would inevitably suffer. The strongest link between the Mother Country and the Dominions would be weakened to the snapping point. In the House of Commons today, Prime Minister Baldwin said he was satisfied the Dominions' assent to a morganatic marriage "would not be forthcoming."

As Mrs. Simpson herself left the country and was reported en route to the French Riviera, the Prime Minister made his first statement on the differences between the King and his Cabinet. The text of the statement follows:

Public Warned Against Unsound New Aviation Companies by Minister

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (AP).—Exploitation of the investing public by new aviation companies and over-development of flying services such as occurred in connection with railroad facilities are to be guarded against by Government action, Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, declared today.

Aroused by indications air transport companies might be formed to an extent not justified by the traffic and by concerns chiefly interested in the "stock market aspect" of company promotion, the Minister issued a warning against "high pressure salesmanship" associated with such ventures.

Western Canadian air problems were outlined by Hon. P. M. MacPherson, British Columbia's Minister of Public Works.

Revised Trade Pact With Great Britain Far From Complete

Premier Says New Agreement May Not Be Ready For Presentation at Next Session of Parliament—Had Hoped for An Early Accord

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—No agreement has been reached on revision of the Canada-United Kingdom trade agreement. Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared definitely tonight, and he could not forecast even that agreement would be reached in time for consideration of the forthcoming session of Parliament.

Following this afternoon's session of Cabinet council the Prime Minister and several members of the Cabinet went into conference with Sir Francis Ploud, British High Commissioner in Canada.

The Prime Minister told questioners, however, there was no basis for reports promulgation of a new agreement was imminent.

FAR FROM COMPLETE
"We have no agreement," Mr. Mackenzie King declared. "We have been working on it ever since early last summer." He referred to successive visits to London during the summer by Finance Minister Dunning, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, Trade Minister W. D. Brier, and later the Prime Minister himself. All these discussions, and subsequent negotiations, by correspondence, had tended to further negotiations, he said, but they were far from complete.

The existing agreement, negotiated at the Imperial economic conference in Ottawa in 1932, was for a period of five years certain, and indefinite thereafter unless ended by proper notice given by either party.

MAKES NO FORECAST
It has been the endeavor of the present administration, however, to revise the agreement as early as possible in keeping with the Government's policies on trade questions. He hoped to have revision complete in time for Parliament, the Prime Minister said, but at the present stage in negotiations he could make no forecast.

CANADA'S POSITION

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin's statement in the British House of Commons today, making reference to the attitude of the Dominion toward the possible marriage of King Edward VIII to Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, left nothing to be said at the present time, Prime Minister Mackenzie King declared tonight.

The Prime Minister would add nothing to his statement of earlier today when he declared it was "quite wrong" to allege that in the "existing situation" any proceeding of course of action in Great Britain had been at the instance of or upon the insistence of Canada or of any of the Dominions.

In a prepared statement issued at noon, the Prime Minister, while making no mention of His Majesty or Mrs. Simpson, denied the "existing situation" had been precipitated by any action of Canada, and expressed confidence the same was true with respect to all the self-governing Dominions.

There had been consultation between the several governments of the British Commonwealth, and the initiative taken by Mr. Baldwin had been taken "with due regard to the collective concern and responsibility of the several governments of the British Commonwealth."

PARLIAMENT CALLED

Earlier the Cabinet had agreed informally to back any action taken by the Home Government.

SOUTH AFRICA'S VIEW

SMITHFIELD, South Africa, Dec. 4.—Prime Minister J. B. M. Hertzog stated tonight there was no reason to assume the British Government would resign over the constitutional crisis.

General Hertzog had an hour's private conversation at his home here with Sir William Clark, United Kingdom High Commissioner to South Africa, who hurried by airplane from Pretoria.

The Prime Minister intimated he would go to Bloemfontein tomorrow and then to Pretoria, the seat of government. He said he was unable at present to state whether a Cabinet meeting would be necessary, but that at the moment it appeared so.

REMAND GIVEN UNTIL TUESDAY

Geraldine Kirby in Extradition Proceedings Before Judge Shandley

Geraldine Kirby, alias Darline Dwight, who arrived here on the Ss. Empress of Canada on Wednesday, was given another remand in the County Court yesterday morning. This was taken on the application of C. L. Harrison, acting for the city police, who are the official custodians of the twenty-four-year-old woman who is charged by Honolulu authorities with obtaining money by forgery, and who have asked for extradition proceedings.

No reason was given by Mr. Harrison for the delay until next Tuesday. R. C. Lowe, who is counsel for the girl, acceded to the adjournment and Judge H. H. Shandley accordingly granted the request.

Miss Kirby is being held by the city police upon the request of the Honolulu authorities. The Dominion immigration authorities, however, will require the return of the girl to them should the extradition proceedings not be proceeded with or should there fail to be shown sufficient in the charges upon which deportation would be ordered. The immigration authorities will claim the right to investigate whether she is a person to be allowed to enter this country or that she should be returned to the country whence she came.

It is anticipated that by Tuesday more definite instructions may be obtained here as to the wishes of the authorities in Honolulu as to whether extradition proceedings should go on or the alleged offender should be handed back to the immigration authorities.

SHAWINIGAN LAKE, Dec. 4.—The problem of Vancouver Island's future was the subject of a meeting held in the S.L.A.A. Hall on Wednesday evening in support of the Vancouver Island Provincial Association, which has as its ultimate goal the forming of a separate Island province. W. E. Fraser occupied the chair.

B. A. McKelvie and H. Despard Twigg, of the association, addressed the large audience. Mr. McKelvie traced the history of Vancouver Island from its thriving industry as a crown colony and through its declining era, which commenced in 1866 with its annexation to British Columbia. The speaker deplored the depletion of the former capital wealth of the Island.

"TWEEDSMUIR"

250,000 Canadians are in desperate and appalling need

If you could see with your own eyes even a fraction of the privation and suffering of the people in the drought-stricken area of Western Canada to-day, your innate sense of decency would compel you to do at least something to help.

50,000 families have had no crops—no income—for an average of five years.

The Provincial Governments, with Federal aid, are doing their utmost but they cannot provide more than food, fuel and clothing.

Imagine the plight of these thousands of our fellow-citizens! They lack such absolute necessities as blankets, stove pipes, window glass, and kettles.

Children are put to bed at night under coverings made of newspapers and flour bags. Many thousands have no mattresses to lie on.

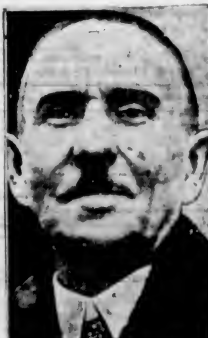

Can you wonder that Red Cross investigators report the situation as tragic in the extreme?

Claude L. Harrison Re-Elected Chairman Of Island Alpinists

Annual Meeting of Local Section of Alpine Club of Canada Addressed by Founder, A. O. Wheeler, Who Extends Congratulations on Its Work

CLAUDE L. Harrison was again re-elected chairman of the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada at the annual meeting held last evening at his home in the Uplands. Fred C. Maurice was chosen secretary-treasurer, and W. H. Dougan, R. D. McCaw, Dr. W. E. M. Mitchell and Miss Kathleen Martin make up the executive.

In his report of the year's activities of the club, Mr. Harrison told of the many climbs arranged during the year, and made special reference to the camp at the Lake of the Seven Hills.

The club decided to approve of the suggestion made by the founder of the club, A. O. Wheeler, the guest speaker, reminded the members that the purpose of the local sections all through Canada was to keep up interest, exchange ideas, and to celebrate the anniversary of the foundation of the club by an annual dinner. He congratulated the Vancouver Island section on what it had done along these lines, and "for their fine work in arousing a deep love of nature in the great hills."

He also explained, in response to questions he had received, that the annual camps of the parent club were held in the main and Selkirk ranges of the Rockies, because these were most central to the majority of the members throughout Canada, furnished the most ideal climbing, scenery and interest in respect of flowers and big game. In conclusion, he urged that members of the local section keep in mind the ideal of training for the main annual camp and active membership therein.

Supper was served at the conclusion of the business meeting by the social committee, under the co-operation of Miss Stephanie Jones.

Mr. Harrison gave singularly interesting entertainment by showing a series of Kodachrome "tallies" and movies in natural color photographs, which created quite a sensation, the pictures being among the first of their kind shown in Victoria.

SALVATIONISTS OPEN CAMPAIGN

Army Pots Will Be Placed On City Streets Today—
Appeal for Funds

The familiar cry of "keep the pot boiling" heard on Victoria streets during the Christmas season, will again be heard this morning as the Salvation Army opens its annual appeal for funds. The funds are used to aid needy persons here during the Yuletide season.

At six strategic points in Victoria, the Christmas pots will be stationed this morning, with a member of the Army ringing the bell at each one.

Officials of the Salvation Army stated the objective this year was $2,000, an amount similar to that raised in 1935.

"We don't want to cause any obstruction to traffic during this period, so we are only placing six pots on the streets at the start. However, as time goes on, we expect to have twelve stations at important intersections in the downtown section." An army official said.

Generous support of the public is sought by the Salvationists for their work of providing for the less fortunate at the Christmas season.

By OASERVER

If there are no changes made in the fifteen chosen to play at MacDonald Park today against Varsity, other than those named last week, Victoria will not be represented at the fullest strength available in this city.

That being so, I must for the moment remember I am for Victoria, and hope that those lucky enough to be selected to represent Victoria will do their best to give Varsity as good a game as is possible under the circumstances.

All lovers of English rugby will be anxious to see just how good Varsity this season. Advance notices tell us we are to see one of the best fifteen Varsity has had for many seasons.

If we take a casual survey of the game played two weeks ago between one of our local clubs and a Vancouver fifteen, it would seem to many of our followers that better Rugby is being played in Vancouver than in Victoria—I mean senior Rugby.

The Mainland team seemed as though they had taken note of the New Zealand players and seldom failed to back up any attacking movement, the result was that the Vancouver fifteen gave the impression of a desire to get out of the "rut," and adapt the modern method of attack which ends in a procession of tries against their opponents.

NOT CHANGED

I mentioned this because our Victoria fifteen have not changed their style of play at all, if anything, they are not nearly as good as they were three or four years ago. However, allowing for our weaknesses I am going to pull for Victoria and hope they will make a very good showing with the material chosen to represent our city.

It is my hope Victoria will win, though I must confess I do not at this stage fancy their chances. If our team should surprise us, and win—and anything does happen in Rugby—it would mean that Varsity is not as good as advance news tells us, and that Victoria is better than we thought they were.

How important a part forward play will be in the McKee Cup game today will be revealed when the final whistle is blown at MacDonald Park in the game between Varsity and Victoria. Good forward play is today, as it has been at every period of the game's development, the foundation of success in Rugby football. The game has developed, methods have changed, and the emphasis now is definitely on forward play, but whether we think of the football of many years ago or of the Rugby of today, we are forced to recognize that if the forwards fail today there will be failure everywhere—save in the most exceptional circumstances.

Remember this, Victoria forwards, good play by the forwards is the foundation of success, and good forward play is all-round play—it includes the capacity to scrum, to get the ball, to heel cleanly and quickly, to wheel and dribble, to catch the ball safely in the line out, to pass out from the loose and from the line out in order to start combined attacks.

Something will depend on the state of the ground today, the Victoria forwards must not take the Varsity as simply a dry-day team, they have proved that they can beat the best on a wet day, as well. Their defeat at the hands of the All Blacks was due largely to the large number of games they had taken part in. They won three games in eight days.

FORWARD GAME

But on a dry, fast ground as well as on a wet or muddy one, our forwards ought to be able to use their feet effectively in controlling and steering the ball, and keeping so close upon it that their opponents are given no rest. This is the true Rugby forward game, and greatly as I admire passing runs by forwards I am inclined to think that forwards make their most effective contribution to the success of the game when through real dribbling and close following up they submit the opposing defence to a searching test.

Of course, if the Victoria forwards kick too hard—Varsity are quick in fielding and passing out—Victoria will defeat their own purpose. Our forwards must control the ball, and they must be so close upon it that they are able to bowl over the man who attempts to field. No pack can be regarded as fully equipped unless they are capable of stirring rushes and dribbles, and when forwards are superlative in the art of variation must once again be brought to the notice of the Victoria captain today. There is a place for the individual effort, but the curious thing is that men who offend in this way cannot recognize that their individual efforts would have three times the chance of succeeding if they make an occasional variation, quick passing out. Victoria must establish that chain of combination which will give their runners on the right or left an opportunity to use their powers while they still have room in which to operate.

HALVES AND CENTRES

It is up to the halves and centres to see that the fundamental mistake of breaking the links of combination is not done when the obvious thing is to maintain them. Victoria players will have learned some lessons from these articles appearing in The Colonist weekly—even if they have seemed rather severe at times—but if we are to improve the game in Victoria a lot more will have to be learned by our players before they can successfully run a high standard of play.

So Victoria, go out with a self-confident feeling, give the best you have—if you are beaten we can then say you have put up a good fight, and that, after all, is the important point in Rugby. We welcome Varsity and are glad to know they have a good team. May the best team win.

FRANCO-GERMAN RELATIONS

Of Germany, he said, "Nothing is more necessary to European peace than closer relations between France and the Reich. This understanding is possible with the principle of non-interference in foreign affairs. Closer relations are possible for we have no thought of hegemony for ourselves."

"We invite the Reich to enter a security pact."

Stressing that France also must retain its friendship with the Soviet Union and the Little-Entente (Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugoslavia), Delors denied France is "isolated," declaring "we are proud to show the list of our friends."

FOUR WONDROUS NEW REASONS WHY:

"It's McLaughlin-Buick again!"

THIS new McLaughlin-Buick is "stepped up" in everything but price!

It is longer, lower, roomier than any McLaughlin-Buick of other years. And in an entirely new kind of Unisteel Turret Top Body by Fisher—it combines new safety and new silence with the most beautiful streamline styling in McLaughlin-Buick history.

New, too, is its great Straight Eight Engine—in power, in unequalled smoothness, in ability to carry out every command of your hand and foot without effort. Only three things are old... the Valve-in-Head principle, for thrill—the Straight Eight design for smoothness—and the McLaughlin-Buick dependability.

The tiptoe Hydraulic Brakes are even quicker, easier in action. The Knee-Action ride features new gliding comfort. Ride Stabilizers are built in both front and rear to end side-sway when corner-

ing. The shockless Centre-Control Steering has been improved. New frames have skyscraper rigidity. And the time-tried McLaughlin-Buick fundamentals like Torque-Tube drive and Sealed Chassis have been refined still further.

See and drive the 1937 McLaughlin-Buick today. It's a bigger, smarter, roomier Straight Eight at the same low price. And is there anyone who wouldn't be happier with a Straight Eight for his fine-car money!

You can buy your McLaughlin-Buick on the General Motors Installment Plan, with monthly payments to suit your purse.

NEW BUICKS TO BE SHOWN HERE

Davis-Drake Motors Display
1937 Models of Popular
Modern Cars

McLaughlin-Buick's reputation in the fine car field is sure to be enhanced by the beautiful new models for 1937, announced by Davis-Drake Motors today. There are four lines, varying in wheelbase and horsepower, but all thoroughbreds in style and behavior. Important advances in design and construction are claimed for the four series by General Motors Products of Canada, Limited. Horsepower has been stepped up, acceleration and general performance are even more brilliant and the refinements that produced greater power have resulted also in better fuel economy.

McLaughlin-Buick styling is entirely new for 1937. The radiator grille has horizontal bars rising to the hood line. Unique tailoring of the hood top and sides, with the hood top line and color carried down through the middle of the grille, produces a massive yet racy effect and at the same time meets practical modern requirements.

BODY STYLING

The effective front-end treatment is carried throughout the body styling. Chrome metal strips carry the line of the hood rearward. Split V-type windshields slant back to meet the smooth "turret" tops, which are an integral part of the side bodies.

The four lines of cars are: The Series 44 Special, 122-inch wheelbase, four body types; the Series 46 Century, 126-inch wheelbase, three body types; the Series 48 Roadmaster, 131-inch wheelbase, three body types; and the Series 45 Limited, 138-inch wheelbase, with two body types. The Century, Roadmaster and Limited models all are powered by a 120-horsepower valve-in-head straight eight engine. The Special series cars are powered by a 120-horsepower eight-cylinder engine of the same design.

MODERN FEATURES

Among the features are: Unitized bodies on the Century and Century cars, custom-built bodies on the Roadmaster and Limited cars, solid-steel turret-top bodies by Fisher on all series, hydraulic brakes, power windows, power door locks, independent front-wheel suspension, double-action shock absorbers, sealed chassis, torque tube drive, automatic engine controls, new aerodynamic streamlining, overhead valve mechanism, streamlined intake valves and other outstanding improvements.

While performance of the 1937 cars has been stepped up, their fuel economy was improved. Proving grounds tests showed that the Series 44 cars, twenty-three miles per gallon at 30 m.p.h., sixteen miles per gallon at 70 m.p.h. The economy records for all series were an improvement over those of the corresponding 1936 cars.

Solid-steel turret top bodies by Fisher, with Fisher no-draft ventilation, are standard in all models. Bodies of the Series 44 and 46 McLaughlin-Buick are of unstepped construction, while those of the Series 48 and 49 are of composite wood and steel construction, common to custom-built cars.

Enlightening Talk Given On European Problems

Y.W.C.A. Current Events Club Hears Address by Mr. John Gough—South American Conference Sounds Note Towards Peace

The complexity of the political situation in Europe at the present time was outlined yesterday by Mr. John Gough during the course of a most instructive talk at the last meeting of the season held by the Y.W.C.A. Current Events Group, Mrs. P. B. Scarratt presiding.

Troubles in Italy, the civil war in Spain, Germany's problems and a general feeling of unrest were referred to by the speaker, who added "the world has gone mad as far as Europe is concerned, but a spirit of sanity has been sounded in Buenos Aires, where twenty-one nations of the two Americas have met to discuss their troubles and to find a means for their solution by arbitration, similar to the League of Nations."

THREE BLOCKS

There were at present three main Government blocks in Europe, Mr. Gough explained. In the central group, democracy to which Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Scandinavia belong, in another group, the United States, represented by Italy, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Portugal, and in the Leftist group, which was also dictatorial but Communist in outlook, was Soviet Russia. By means of maps, Mr. Gough was able to make his points very clear to his audience, and endeavored to destroy the current idea that the Government of Spain was dominated by Communists.

He made a brief survey of Fascism and Nazism. Both had similar points: were nationalistic and totalitarian, highly militaristic and anti-Semitic, and both were capitalist in outlook. They held to the fetish of racial superiority, were opposed to the League of Nations and were anti-clerical. Communism and Socialism, on the other hand, looked with favor upon the League and peace.

After discussing the Spanish civil war, Mr. Gough spoke of Germany and of Adolf Hitler's new book, "Mein Kampf" or "My Struggle," which Mr. Gough said, was 90 per cent dogma and was one of the finest pieces of propaganda ever written. Because of the anti-clerical attitude of the Nazis, the persecuted Jews were being driven into exile and thousands had returned to Palestine where every effort was being made to rehabilitate them.

Bringing his topic up to the present time, Mr. Gough spoke of the lifting of the ban on religion in Russia and of the steps being taken by Stalin towards religious and civil freedom in that country.

Applause Greeted Announcement of Campaign Result

Y.W.C.A. Drive for Finances Closes With Total of $4,601.10—Figures Reported at Final Meeting Held Yesterday Afternoon

A TOTAL of $4,601.10, which is less than $400 short of their objective of $5,000, has been realized by the finance campaign committee of the Young Women's Christian Association.

Applause greeted the announcement of the final results when these were made known in connection with the meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Dr. Olga Jardine, 30 Douglas Street, to wind up the business of the drive. An analyzed and itemized statement of team results had been posted on the blackboard earlier in the afternoon, this showing pledges totaling $4,492.10, but additional moneys reported from various sources later brought this up to the still more gratifying sum of $4,601.10 noted above.

ANALYZED STATEMENT
The analyzed statement, as shown on the blackboard, was as follows:
Division A—Total subscribers: 265; total subscriptions, $928.60.
Division B—Total subscribers: 228; total subscriptions, $783.00.
Special names, 152 subscribers, total subscriptions, $2,477.25.
Mrs. George's party, $86.00.

CONTESTANTS FOR MAYORALTY SPEAK

pit charges. Government grants have also been reduced. Revenue from the land department dropped to $19,000, compared with $130,000 in 1930. Tax collection has been dropped to 76 per cent, and $646,000 in new burdens has been heaped upon the city.

TAXATION INCREASE

"During the past year no payments have been made into the sinking fund and taxation has increased by $100,000. Out of the budget we had to leave the sum of $672,000, representing nearly twenty mills. For six years we have had to leave a total of $353,000 out of budget. We are now at the end of our credit and cannot take any more money out of the sinking fund.

"I am trying to preserve the credit of the city and the value of bonds on the debt-refunding mission to London and Toronto, we were highly complimented on our brief, but were informed an investigation must be made upon the ground before any action would be taken. It is utter nonsense to say work of the delegation could have been accomplished by mail. We cannot get any further until the investigation is completed. Any taxpayer who is ignorant of the city's financial position has himself to blame, because the information has been given many times.

"Some time ago the Minister of Municipalities asserted Victoria should secure readjustment of its debt. Representatives of seventeen local bond houses were called in at council meetings. They told us to raise taxes and cut expenditures. But we cannot raise taxes or cut expenditures.

DEBT CHARGES
"Through lack of public works money the physical condition of the city is not what it should be. Debt charges of the city on principal and interest for next year total $1,308,000. Debt adjustment is the only method by which the financial conditions can be straightened out. The only way we could reduce expenditures would be to fire employees or reduce their wages. Surely citizens would not like us to do that?

"I know my opponent does not think the things he is saying are worth the trouble. Ask him to tell you his way out of financial difficulties. There is positively no other way out than debt adjustment.

"Next year we shall have the seventy-fifth anniversary of incorporation of Victoria as a city, and the King's coronation. I am certain I shall be in office to help with the celebration, for which funds have been received," Mayor Leeming closed.

In answer to a question, the Mayor stated "the city will save $100,000 next year when the debt adjustment plan goes through."

ALDERMAN MCGAVIN
Alderman McGavin commenced by asserting he had served the people of Victoria faithfully for four years as an alderman and two and one-half years on the police commission. He said he had consistently stood up for the rights and the keeping down of expenditures.

"Take the Duchess Street fire hall for protection of Oak Bay," Alderman McGavin remarked. "Last year a five-year agreement between the city and Oak Bay expired. It called for Oak Bay paying the city $11,500 annually for fire protection. During the five years Oak Bay's growth was about 35 per cent, and the sum for protection should have been doubled or increased by at least two-thirds. I held out for an increase, but the council decided to continue the old agreement at the same rate for another year.

"Look at Calverton golf links. They receive water for four cents per thousand gallons while we pay ten cents per 625 per gallons in the city. I unsuccessfully fought against the low rate for Calverton.

"Between 1927 and 1935, the British Columbia Agricultural Association received $27,600 in grants from the city. It has been asked 'were they legal?' In 1934 I held out for a reduction in the grant, and it was cut to $3,400. Last year a further slash reduced it to $2,700.

PUBLICITY BUREAU
"I am afraid of nothing. I did not say I was definitely against a grant for the Publicity Bureau, but I firmly believe the money should be handled by a City Council committee. I think it would be a good idea to take $10,000 of the money granted the bureau and bonus a party to bring tourists and motorists here at low rates.

"When Herbert Anascomb was mayor, a thirty-inch water main was sunk in the city at a total cost of $138,000 in order to supply Oak Bay with more water at a greater pressure. Water costs the city 63 cents per thousand gallons, yet Oak Bay gets it for 7.5 cents. Who was Oak Bay not asked to pay most of the cost of the water main?"

CITY SECURITIES
"The city pays the bank $1,300 per year just to safeguard city securities. For fifty years this was accomplished by city officials at a cost not exceeding $100 per year. Somebody ran to the council with the tale of a civic employee who absconded with some bonds in Eastern Canada years ago, and the council decided to spend $1,300 to prevent such a thing happening here—I do not think for a minute it ever would have happened.

"Not long ago the council decided to conduct a survey of buildings for insurance purposes. Instead of having it conducted by City Hall officials, capable of doing the work, the council paid $1,340 to a private firm for the survey.

"In spite of trying financial times, the mayor raised his own salary from $3,600 to $4,000 and then sanctioned a partial pay cut restoration of 3 per cent to City Hall employees to cover it up. If I am elected mayor I shall not require a magnificent salary of $4,000 per year. During my four years as an alderman I have attended all council and committee meetings 100 per cent. I have given my best to the city."

Alderman McGavin concluded. Replying to a question on what he would do in regard to the Electric franchise if he were mayor at the time, Alderman McGavin said: "I would see the company received a fair deal and that citizens' interests were protected."

B.C. SEEKING EXPORT ACT

Natural Products Marketing (B.C.) Act through the House, preparing for fuller and more complete control over food products. Federal powers to regulate external and inter-provincial exports, however, were seen as the missing factors in such provincial laws.

Plans to link export and internal sales together by a system of pooling returns have been openly discussed here during the last few weeks. How far Ottawa may be prepared to go along this line, however, is something that has not yet developed.

Just before the bridge players repaired to the tea-room, Miss Agnes, with a graceful little speech, presented to the first president, Mrs. Harry Barnard, a beautiful colonial bouquet, and to the present holder of the office, Mrs. S. J. Willis, a miniature model of the old Fort Camosun building, made from local clay by Mrs. Grute. Later in the afternoon while the guests were still gathered about the candle-lit table in the dining-room, Mrs. Barnard, seconded by Mrs. Willis in felicitous manner thanked the hostess for the happy thought which inspired her to arrange such a delightful affair, and this was followed by the singing of "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," and a salvo of cheers led by Mrs. Charles Wilson, secretary of the original executive of the local club when organized here in 1909.

ROMANCE, PREFERRED

by MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

CHAPTER VIII

"I guess Louise and the others think I'm decaying in my solitude," Elissa said to Arlen. "They'd be surprised to know that I've made friends. Three boys have an apartment down the hall from mine. They've come East to get work. I'm sure they haven't any money. I hear them cooking dinner at midnight and often I smell it burning. They have parties and the girls bring the refreshments. I've never seen people with so little have such a good time."

"After one of the boys spoke to me on the elevator and apologized for disturbing me the night before, I couldn't sleep but I enjoyed listening to them. I didn't mind the noise. Last night I said Elissa: 'when they didn't know how to candy sweet potatoes they came after me. I didn't know any more than they but somehow we got the meal together and they asked me to stay.'"

Arlen laughed. "And then you were the Bohemian that Fanny calls you, and now more than ever with the bangs."

"They're quite young," said Elissa, "and very ambitious. They made a pact to stick together until they made good and share what little they have. Two are Pete and Harry and the other is Julian Heywood. He's even taller than Renny. They're real people. It was twelve o'clock when I left. We didn't do anything or go anywhere. We just laughed a great deal. I am learning the difference between pleasure and happiness. Last night's meal was so cheap, we're dining out. If only Aunt Grace or Fanny could see me sitting in a cheap restaurant dining with three shabby boys. You know, you haven't been to see my room yet."

"I'm trying to finish this column in record time," said Arlen. "I even neglect to write to my father. It's terrible not to want to hear from him but there's a misunderstanding. He despairs in his letters that—what scares me."

"I'm the only one of you who is happy," said Elissa. "It's no pose I am. When the manager of the French discovered I could speak French, my job was assured. The other day when a girl I used to know came in and looked at me with such shocked surprise and pity, it didn't hurt me at all. I have so much more than I've ever had. I like being poor because it has set me free."

That afternoon while Arlen sat under a hair dryer in a chair some distance from Louise's, she thought of Elissa going back to the tiny room and eating dinner with Pete and Harry and Julian Heywood. Elissa had been radiant today. Arlen dreaded the evening before him.

Louise was more irritable than usual, having discharged her maid that morning. "I hated to do it," she had said, "because she has a mother and father absolutely dependent on her, but my clothes were in such a frightful state. The dress I wanted to wear today was not pressed and all my stockings were mismatched. I don't pay servants to be moody and sulky and creep with the other servants. Richard will be furious."

To ease her tired nerves she had bought three dresses, a rug and new draperies for Arlen's room. "Arlen," Louise's husky voice carried the length of the long white room. "I expect Renny will be here later part of the week. That's fine? Of course. I shall adore to see Moller and Allison but I know that I shall have to find the apartment for them and get them settled. Allison is the most precious child but at times she's stubborn and nervous and it upsets me terribly. She doesn't get that from the Maynards—certainly not from Renny."

"I shall be glad to see him," said Arlen.

Louise's nervousness had driven her into a guarded silence. Shopping with her, Arlen had turned crimson at the supercilious remarks to salespeople. Watching her flip the ashes of her cigarette on the tile floor, she thought, "I came here to be free, to escape prison. This is a worse prison. Elissa is the only free one of us. I miss Toby."

Twice she had seen Richard angry, the first time when Christina's name had been mentioned and that night when he confronted Louise with discharging her maid.

"How could you do such a heartless thing?" he asked.

"But my clothes, Richard—"

"You knew that her father has been out of work for two years. He's old and finished. Her mother is dying from cancer."

"I shall be glad to see him," said Arlen.

Is Singing Bass Solos In "Messiah" Here

JOHN E. PACK

OF Vancouver, who will sing the bass solos in the third annual performance of the "Messiah" at Christ Church Cathedral on Wednesday next, has a clear baritone voice of remarkable range. The Daily Province of Vancouver describes him as "an artist to the finger tips." The Vancouver Sun, commenting on a performance of the "Messiah" in that city, says: "Mr. Pack's voice is a notable example of 'Why Do the Nations' his runs and turns throughout this exacting number being given with evenness and freedom."

Temporarily hired a young girl from the village who turned out to be a devoted part of the movie. While Renny's mother thought that Allison was being taught the story of the "Three Kings," the village girl was actually teaching her impersonations of Mae West, Joe Penner, and Jimmy Durante. His mother had been heart-sick at Allison's tongue-twisting impersonations but Renny had shaken with laughter.

He put her in her bed, tucked her favorite doll between the covers, and kissed her. While he sat beside her, she opened her eyes and grinned at him. Her eyes were neither blue like Christina's nor brown like his. They were, he suddenly thought, like Arlen's eyes.

Toby, bearing signs of a gay wedding on his tired face, waited outside the business school.

Elissa said, "Positively I will not go with Toby. Arlen, you go with Toby."

Arlen asked, "Have you taken another afternoon off, Toby?"

"I haven't reported at the office since the wedding," he said. He laughed at Elissa. "You look like something that comes out of the village."

"Some good novels have come out of the village," retorted Elissa.

Toby drove so fast that Arlen had to hold onto her hat, and she got only a fleeting glimpse of trees changing color and corn stacked in the brown corn.

As she followed the waiter to a corner table by the window, she wondered how many other girls Toby had brought here for lunch, for tea, and for talk.

He jerked, "Scholastic!" wheezed his books on the window-seat. "How much longer will it be before you're a full-fledged graduate of typing, shorthand and tricky business words?"

"In three weeks," said Arlen. "I will either ask for an increase in salary or look for a job that's less charity." She pulled off her brown gloves and gripped the brown swag of her coat.

GIVE A TOY IS SCOUTS' APPEAL

Contributions Needed by Boy Scouts Repair Shop—Show This Morning

TOYS, tools, toys, even a toy car, are needed in every conceivable machine or plaything to make children happy but nothing to clutter the lives of the little toys of unprivileged or needy families, unless a contribution of a toy is sent to Boy Scout headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street.

Nine thousand toys are still required to fill the needs of Christmas gifts for distribution to needy children. The Scouts under the able direction of W. R. B. Bales are doing their part in repairing and remodeling worn and broken toys of their work volunteers. However, they cannot turn out the toys necessary to fill thousands of little stockings unless they have the material to work with.

Big P. O'Grady, who is in charge of the toy repair shop, says that the committee is holding a toy drive for the Christmas season. The drive will be held every morning at 9:30 o'clock. Here kids will have the opportunity of helping this cause and enjoying one hour and a half's entertainment consisting of a Western thriller, Mickey Mouse, Our Gang comedy, and another feature comedy. The only ticket of admission is a toy either new or in good condition.

Anyone who has some plaything to donate and has not the time to bring it in town, may telephone any one of the three numbers: Garden 4352, Garden 3295, or Garden 6941.

Mr. H. T. Dale, well known in Victoria for his deafness and hard of hearing, has again returned to the City. Mr. Dale is located at the Dominion Hotel and will be demonstrating his latest instrument today and all next week.

Letters to Editor

"TOO OLD, INDUSTRIALLY"

Sir,—Would you kindly publish the following in your paper? On the 27th of last month, it was the experience of the writer to apply for work where, it was stated, thirty-six years of age is too old. The writer wishes to say, without any disrespect to younger men, there are men in their thirties, or over, who can compete side by side with them in various occupations.

During the days of 1914-18, thirty-six did not seem to be too old and one realizes in the event of another war the above age would not be over the limit, therefore, if thirty-six is accepted in times of war it is reasonable to expect its acceptance industrially in times of peace.

A RUSHFORD,
1249 Rockland Avenue, Victoria,
B.C., December 2, 1936.

MUNICIPAL FINANCES

Sir,—Please publish this open letter to Mayor Leeming.

Dear Mr. Leeming—I am going to ask you to give your answer to this through the press. I do this with all good feeling as between two honest men. We all make mistakes, and perhaps having read this letter you will see the matter in a different light.

Do you think it right that the producer of Alberta through its Premier should reduce interest on the bonds of Victoria sold in good faith by the British Empire?

Do you agree with the editorial of The Daily Colonist on December 2, "Broken Faith," in which it states: "This game is based on false principles, and in the past editors, that a bond is a bond and a contract is a contract and the breaking of such is 'immoral' also."

Let us have all the leisure we can. We must educate the public to enjoy it and also provide for the eventually, as it is here to stay. The problem is one of adjustment and it is one of the big things the world has to do. We are on the eve of a very happy era and the only thing that keeps us from stepping into it is the binding claim of an obsolete system of distribution and credit.

The Rev. J. M. Niven, in a letter written 23rd ult., and published on the 26th inst. to me, inferentially, a statement that "the New Testament was derived from Greek writers." On the same day I sent you for publication a categorical denial of that statement, with a brief explanation of my position. Neither this letter, nor a subsequent reply to Mr. Galland has yet been published. Meanwhile, I am being put under the ban as infidelistic to my trust as a minister of the Gospel. Two requests for the future have been cancelled, ostensibly on the ground of heterodoxy.

This in itself is a minor matter; but that you should admit correspondence which strikes at the root of Christianity, and which is held by the majority of the world, is a matter of which I am deeply grieved.

I have written extensively on the anticipations of Christianity in Greek philosophy, in theosophical treatises, notably in Bibliotheca Sacra, a century-old publication of the highest repute. These articles have received cordial commendation from scholars and conservative theologians. While they strike out a new avenue of approach to the study of the New Testament they are convincingly confirmatory of the Divine origin of the Word incarnate and the inspiration of the writers thereof.

I am prepared if it is deemed desirable, to cast the information into a popular mold, readily intelligible to readers who are unacquainted with Greek language and literature.

I must ask you to believe that in making this proposal I am not motivated by any desire to increase the influence of the Book which reveals the only way of salvation for the race and the only safe guide for human conduct.

FRED T. TAPSCOTT
3342 Whittier Avenue, Victoria, B.C.,
December 2, 1936.

SOCIAL CREDIT PROPOSALS

Sir,—There are two things wrong with the heading "Radical Social Credit." The Colonist on an editorial attacking Social Credit says: "The first is that you used the same heading quite recently and the second is that Social Credit is not 'radical' and the Book of Credit is not 'radical'."

Social Credit is a set of proposals for a reform in the money system designed to preserve, not destroy, our present system of political institutions, individual initiative and to add to them even more, not less, economic freedom for the individual. Social Credit is against socialism, collectivization and regimentation of either the Moscow, Berlin or Rome variety. It stands firmly for British traditions and British institutions.

As anyone with the wit to see can see, members of the Social Credit movement are in overwhelming majority people of conservative inclination and habit who are absolutely disinterested in the political variety of party. Conservative in the attempt to re-educate the authorities.

MAE WEST STARS IN CAPITOL FILM

"Go West Young Man" Has Impending Cast of Actors Plot Laid In Country

Glamorous Mae West goes rural in her latest mirthquake, "Go West Young Man," a riotous comedy of love on the farm, which opens at the Capitol today.

Cast as a high-strung movie star whose romantic life is curbed by a clause in 1927 contract, Mae West meets and falls in love with Randolph Scott, an automotive mechanic and inventor on a Pennsylvania farm. Warren William, cast as her press agent, has the unenviable job of seeing to it that she looks up to her romantic and the means he employs to insure it add much to the general hilarity of the goings-on.

Lyle Talbot is another of the actors bidding for her favor, and it is from these three that Miss West ultimately selects her man. Also in the film are Alice Brady, Isabel Jewell, Elizabeth Patterson, Margaret Perry, Blanche Garwood, Maynard Holmes, Alice Ardel and "Nicodemus."

ATLAS A score of primitive theatre war drums, such as those employed by Zulu, Heri-Heri-Bessie to call his wild herds from the Ethiopian hinterlands to battle Mungus's Fascists, were used in a sequence in "Anthony Adverse," the Warner Bros. picture appearing for the last time today at the Atlas Theatre.

PLAZA Specially matched theatre feathers had to be used in "The Green Pastures," a Warner Bros. production of the famous stage play showing for the last time today at the Plaza Theatre.

The 1800 feathers which formed the scenic adornment came from white swans, geese and chickens, and had to be thoroughly cleaned before the celestial characters could wear them.

DOMINION James Fenimore Cooper's immortal classic, "The Last of the Mohicans," now comes to thrilling life on the screen of the Dominion Theatre, with Randolph Scott, heading the imposing cast as Hawkeye the handsome and daring Colonial scout hero of this stirring tale of adventure and romance in a country in the making.

From any drugstore get 2½ ounces of Pines, a compound containing Norway Spruce in concentrated form, well known for its effect on the throat membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pines into a 16 oz. bottle and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of cough remedy, unusually quick acting and dependable, and you get four times as much cough medicine for your money. It's easy, and is very pleasant—children love it.

Yours are supplied by the way it takes hold of severe coughs, giving quick, satisfying relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money is refunded if it doesn't please in every way.

What Today Means

"RAGITARIUS"

If December 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m., from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

This ought to be a good Saturday for shopping—entertaining and courting. People are apt to be very sentimentally inclined, so lovers ought to find it an ideal day for them. Be careful, however, not to try to force your affection on anyone who does not seem disposed to appreciate it. The emotions are likely to be easily affected, so it will be wise to let your tones vibrate only gentle and kindly sounds. Domestic pets will be easily frightened by harshly-spoken commands or threatening actions, so be careful in this respect. Nerves can be easily put on edge by anything that is unpleasantly reverberatory, and as this will perhaps cause a display of irritation it will be discretion to take precautions. Married and engaged couples, as well as those whose path of love is smooth, must try to be both interesting and entertaining this day. It is to turn out to be an enjoyable day.

If a woman and December 5 is your birthday, you probably will have a very eventful life. The chances are you will do a great deal of traveling by both land and sea. You are able to make your own resources yield you a profitable living. Do not indulge in a sense of false pride. Your sympathetic nature prompts you to make many sacrifices that are unequalled for you. You should think more of yourself and less of other people's wants. You ought to have a great amount of personal charm, a witty tongue, and a temper that requires careful controlling. You will make many friends, but a tendency to criticize is liable to jeopardize their friendship, so be careful in this respect. As a missionary shop manager, broker, author, educator, actress or business woman you may be financially successful. Your matrimonial problems probably are going to be very few and easily solved.

The child born on December 5, generally is treated most kindly by Mother Nature, both physically and mentally. As a rule, in its early youth it will give ample evidence of having a decided talent for some line of activity that has a promising future. If a man and December 5 is your natal day, avoid being impatient or domineering. If you expect to meet with success in chemistry, law, architecture, engineering, mining, journalism and selling are activities that may have many opportunities to offer a person of your versatility. My friend laughed when I spoke to the waiter in French but the laugh was on him. I told the waiter to give him the check.

At the weekly meeting of the Victoria and District British-Israel Association in the Foresters' Hall at 8 o'clock on Tuesday, the speaker will be Don MacKinnon.

The title of this address is "Christian Churches in Russia Today."

William L. Patterson will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple" (Knapp). The choir will render an anthem.

LANE AND JOYCE THOMSON RETAIN CITY TITLES

Dodgers Acquire Four Players in Big League Trade

Burleigh Grimes Gets Two From Cubs and a Like Number From Pirates—Vince Di Maggio Is Purchased by Boston Bees—Landis Motion Beaten—Amateur Series Arranged

BURLEIGH GRIMES, (Woody) English and Roy Henshaw, diminutive southpaw pitcher.

A few minutes later, old Burleigh closed a deal whereby he traded Southpaw Pitcher Ed Brandt to the Pirates for Second Baseman Harry (Cookie) Lavagetto and Ralph Birkefer, young southpaw.

The taton Bees put another Di Maggio in the big leagues, buying Vincent Di Maggio, older brother of Yankee Joe, from San Diego for cash. Outfielder Ruppert Thompson and Pitcher Jim Chaplin.

BEES MAKE TRADE

The Bees also traded Utility infielder Mickey Haslin to the New York Giants for Third Baseman Eddie Mayo, who wasn't given much employment by the Giants.

Grimes' little trading spree saved the day's market from becoming one of the deadest in many years. Only piece of news to come from the meeting was a left-handed slap at Commissioner Kenehan M. Landis by the minors, who reversed their decision yesterday on his proposed rider on the Baltimore amendment, and rejected it by unanimous vote.

At yesterday's meeting, the minors adopted the Baltimore amendment, permitting scouts and representatives of all ball clubs to recommend players to teams of lower classification without being denied the right, later on, to buy for themselves the player recommended.

LANDIS RIDER BEATEN

When the commissioner heard of the proposed amendment, he submitted his rider, which would require all recommendations to be filed in his office as well as those of the president of "the league involved and the head of the minor league association." The minors voted for the rider, 4 to 1.

Today, however, President Dal Hill, of the Piedmont League, resurrected the rider, and led a movement, which resulted in its unanimous defeat.

It was Commissioner Landis' first defeat on any proposal.

AMATEUR SERIES

MONTREAL, Dec. 4 (AP)—An International series between Canada and the United States, to decide the semi-pro baseball championship, will be established in 1937, it was announced by Raymond Dumont, president of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress.

Louis Duchesnay, Montreal, has been appointed Canadian commissioner to supervise the 1937 Canadian tournament, which will take place at Montreal.

The Canadian and United States champions will meet in a seven-game series starting September 1.

The first three games will be played in the city of the team winning the United States championship, with the remainder of the games taking place in Canada.

The United States championship will be settled in Wichita, Kansas, August 12 to 26, with winners of forty-eight state tournaments being eligible to contest for the title and a minimum cash prize of $5,000.

More than 10,000 clubs will compete in the United States series, Dumont predicted.

Sub-Par Card of 68 to Lead Golfers

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Dec. 4 (AP)—Horton Smith made it tough today for 200 colleagues trying to take his Miami Biltmore open title and the $2,500 that goes with it.

Although they shot two holes-in-one on him, the blond defending champion, putting like a wizard, put together a 31 and 31 for a 68, three under par, in the first eighteen holes of the seventy-two-hole route that leads to $10,000 in prize.

The holes-in-one were dropped by Jack Forrester, of Oradell, N.J., and young Abe Espinoza, of Shreveport, La., but both of them wound up down in the rack.

Among the international field of golf professionals were a group of Ontario players who found the pace too hot to get close to the leaders.

Bob Gray, of Windsor, had a good round with a 74. The other Canadians were Jimmy Johnston, Toronto, 77; Bill Kerr, Toronto, 78; Jack Galloway, Hamilton, 82; and Ed Leeder, Toronto, 83.

"Good-bye, darling. Look after the home well, and if you need any money while I am away just go to the bank."

"Yes, dear. What time does the bank close today?"

It was Commissioner Landis' first defeat on any proposal.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX MORRISON

Not one player in a thousand knows the real weak part of his game. Obviously the weakest part is his swing but in this case the point is made about second shots.

Invariably a player will blame all his failures on the "last shot he missed, especially if that shot might have afforded him the victory he sought. Chances are that shot is one he seldom misses and not to be blamed for his failure.

The real weakness generally can be found in the second shots a player makes. This is the shot that often put his whole game out of step. By missing a brace shot or failing to play an iron properly, an extra burden is placed on the third shot.

Then the shot seldom finds the player up to, his average in performance so that the load is greater with each shot to be played.

Few players seem to mind missing a second shot. They have a false notion about making up for this failure by executing an exceptionally fine third or fourth shot.

The second shot is very important because it can make the hole easy or hard. You do not have to play these shots perfectly, just bring them up to the average of the rest of your game and watch your scores come down.

S. AFRICANS WILL APPEAR IN VICTORIA

Touring Lawn Bowlers to Play Series of Matches in Province

VANCOUVER, Dec. 4 (AP)—The British Columbia Lawn Bowling Association tonight announced a proposed itinerary for the South African bowlers who will visit the province during their Canadian tour next summer. It will, however, have to be confirmed by the Canadian lawn bowling council, and dates set.

The visiting team will enter the province at Field, where it will be met by an official of the British Columbia body. It will make stops at Revelstoke, Vernon and Kamloops for games with clubs of the Interior association before coming on to Vancouver, where it will be entertained by the district and British Columbia associations.

It will spend a week here, playing clubs in Vancouver and surrounding districts. It is expected an official test match will be arranged with a British Columbia team here, after which the visiting team will proceed to Victoria for friendly and test matches.

TO VISIT NANAIMO

From Victoria the South Africans will go to Nanaimo. Returning to Vancouver they will make a one-day visit to Powell River.

Games will probably be arranged for the team at Penikese, Trail, Nelson and Cranbrook on the return east.

The British Columbia association also announced it would urge the Canadian council to start play-offs for the Dominion championships with singles only, leaving rinks and doubles for the future.

They estimated that at least 250 bowlers would enter a Provincial competition to be played off in districts, the district champions meet and determine a Provincial champion.

If the other five Provincial associations in Canada would put up a similar number of entries, they said, a sufficient amount would be realized to finance a meeting of the Provincial champions for a final play-off.

The local body issued an invitation to the Canadian council several weeks ago to hold the finals in Vancouver, but to date have received no reply.

Army and Navy to Stage Fight Card

With boxers from the Royal Canadian Navy, Garrison and Canadian Scottish scheduled to appear, a services boxing programme will be presented at the Bay Street Armories Monday, December 21. Eight bouts are listed for the show, which should produce plenty of heavy milling.

Roddy McInnes will look after full-back duties, while Kenny Baxton and "Chuck" Sweet will be on the wings, flanked by Ken Fleming and "Buz" Brown on the inside positions. Bill Halkett will be stand-off half, and Wally Stupe the scrum half.

THREE ARE FAST

Victoria will have to watch the charging thrives from Varsity. They are fast, mighty fast, good ball handlers and very elusive. Howie McPhee, Canadian Olympic sprinter, will be a marked man, but there is Strat Leggett, Lyle Wilson and Harry Lumsden, another trio who can clip off the century distance in close to ten seconds. Behind the visiting pack there is two brilliant performers in Art Wilson and "Buz" Brown on the inside positions. Bill Halkett will be stand-off half, and Wally Stupe the scrum half.

Barney Ross Outpoints Izzy Jannazzo

Izzy Jannazzo, New York's East Side welterweight challenger, was fanning the air as he faced Champion Barney Ross in their title tilt, and the camera caught Izzy in a futile effort to reach the smart king of the welters. Barney had things well in hand all the way, scoring a unanimous decision and registering both knockdowns that the scrap provided.

The bout went full fifteen rounds, with the customers getting better than an average show.

loughy, basketball star, and sure-kicking Dave Carey.

Here's the students' scrum for you: Joe Andrews, Ron Upward, Ed McGuire, Paddy Colthurst, Jim Pyle, Jim McCammon, Bert Watson, Dick Swan and Bill Harmer. Patroling at full-back is one of the finest kickers and tacklers in the province in Johnny Bird. This lad gets away his punts with great distance, tackles dead and is a tower of strength to any squad.

G. E. Lev will handle the whistle.

Detton, Steele Draw

TORONTO, Dec. 4 (AP)—World championship claimant Dean Detton was held to a no-fall draw here last night by Ray Steele, Glendale, Cal., veteran. Steele played a rally behind in the initial set and squared the count at 13-13. Then, by remarkable badminton, they gained a 17-13 lead. At this stage the Lane-Bleasdale combination staved a determined rally and took the next five points and the set 18-17. In the final set Lane and

THE TUTTS... By Crawford Young

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"CRANK"—ONE WHO FALLS IN BATTLE

"Crank" may connote a crabbed individual, a person with a mental aberration; one possessed of eccentric notions, busied with impracticable projects, perhaps a monomaniac.

"Crank" may indicate one who is sick, capricious, cross; it embodies the various degrees of out-of-gear mentality, from whimsicality to insanity.

All this grows out of the significance of the root of the word which is the Old English verb, "cranc-an," whose primitive meaning was "to draw oneself together in a stiff form, to curl up," the allusion being to one who had fallen in battle.

Come to think of it, "crank" has wandered, but not so far from where it started; oftener than not it signifies simply one who has lost out in the struggle against an unhappy environment.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (P)—Directors of Canadian Celanese, Limited, today declared a quarterly dividend of $1.75 on the 7 per cent, cumulative participating preferred, payable December 31 to holders of record December 16.

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY PROBLEMS—A WOMAN, LEGALLY SEPARATED FROM HER HUSBAND, MOLESTS HIS COMPANIONS—A GIRL WANTS TO KNOW HOW TO MAKE A YOUNG MAN LOVE HER—ANOTHER WANTS ADVICE ON WHETHER SHE IS IN LOVE—THE HUSBAND WHOSE WIFE IS TOO LAZY TO GET BREAKFAST—THE WOMAN WHOSE HUSBAND WOULD FEEL DISGRACED IF SHE GOT A JOB

Another round-up day. Let's see how many answers we can pack into one round-up.

Marjorie: Go to the police court and swear out a peace warrant against the woman who is annoying your sister. If the wife is legally separated from her husband she will not be permitted to molest his companions, regardless of what charges she may have against them. No doubt your mother is trying to protect you from the fate of those others of your family who have made themselves targets for public contempt. Be thankful you have a mother who tries to protect you and be patient with her when she seems overcautious.

Constant Reader: I have not read "Gone With the Wind" though it seems that everybody else has, so I cannot compare it with "Anthony Adverse." Well-written literature is always beneficial. Try to read those books which combine pleasure and benefit for you.

Worried Dick: By all means see a lawyer before you make the change you contemplate. The fact that you are completely advised concerning your rights and the proper way to protect them will not weaken the chance of your husband's reformation. On the contrary, it ought to strengthen his will—if any. When we know a promise, once broken, can never again be mended, we either stop our breakage or go on smashing because we don't care.

Daughter: There is no such thing as making a young man love you. The more you try to force love, the farther it runs from you. If I had the recipe for which you ask I'd be one of the seven wise women of the world, and the wisest of the seven at that.

Puzzled Girl: How do you expect me to tell you whether or not you love the young man when you don't know yourself whether you do or not? As for the young man, his conduct is just commendable, and he must care for you or he would not submit to the embarrassment your stepfather causes him. Both you and the young man are too young to talk of "love" the way you do, but I should say it is your mother's right to decide whether you should have the young man as a good friend and receive his attentions without reason.

Groom's Mother: Why not a black lace dress or a combination of black lace and net for your son's wedding? The best lace you can afford and the most becoming model you can find. You want to wear the dress "several seasons" for dinners and like occasions, and lace is always in good taste and good fashion. Brighten it up with a corsage of real flowers—your favorite flowers if you can secure them—for they will give you a feeling of joy and put you in tune with the universe.

Angry Husband: If your wife is not enough interested in her husband and in her job to provide a snack of breakfast for him before he takes off on a long day of hard work, she is an unconscionable slacker. Yet you "give her everything she wants you can afford and plenty of things you can't afford." I have no patience with lazy wives.

Desperate Wife: If your children lack the food necessary and the clothes required to keep them in health and reasonable comfort, take the job. Your husband is suffering from an aggravated attack of false pride. Where has he been all these years? If you go to business you'll disgrace him, eh? Has he heard about how in the current emergency every honest member of the family pitches in and does what he or she can to meet the situation? You're fortunate to have such a splendid opportunity to do your share. Tell husband to come in out of the rain—he's all wet.
